Your Professional Services Journey

Your onboarding experience will be conducted by Education Horizons' Professional Services team. Our broad expertise and proven implementation processes will provide your school with a strong foundation and deliver value from day one.

But our relationship doesn't end there. The Professional Services team will remain by your side for the duration of your Education Horizons journey. Our talented team of experts will get to know your school, your team, your unique challenges, and your strategic goals. We'll remain on hand to bring best practice advice gained from thousands of customer interactions around the world – no matter how unusual your requirement, we've probably seen something like it before. With services ranging from Product Training and Human Process Improvement to Product Configuration, Reporting and Communications, whatever you need we'll be there to springboard your school to success.

For more information about these services, please speak to your Customer Success Manager or sales representative
